Your solution

With the KEMA Quality OHSAS 'Occupational Health and Safety Assessment Series' 18001 certificate, you demonstrate that you comply with the international legislation pertaining to accidents, absenteeism, competence and working conditions. It proves that your organization has the occupational health and safety issues well under control. That allows you to easily answer many of the questions from clients and the government.

A KEMA Quality OHSAS 18001 certificate is recognized throughout the world and is tailored to the national legislation. Implementation of an OHS management system and OHSAS 18001 certificate provides you with the following advantages: a certified OHS management system gives you the ability to reduce and manage the health and safety risks for employees and others within the organization.

It helps you comply with national legislative requirements and regulations pertaining to health and safety and early adoption of upcoming changes in legislation. Certification eliminates the costs of proving this in another manner. Also, it provides demonstrable competitive advantages – you can distinguish yourself from your competitors because clients can depend on the fact that your employees work safely. It also improves your image as an organization that places health and safety in high regard. Your certificate is recognized both nationally and internationally, which makes it possible for you to convince clients and local governments of your healthy manner of working, even outside your own country. KEMA Quality offers you the services of an international network of local auditors, so we can even certify your foreign offices, taking into account local legislation and regulations.

Why KEMA Quality?

KEMA Quality has an outstanding reputation throughout the world and more than 80 years experience with independent inspection and certification. KEMA Quality realizes better than any other certification body that your employees and your image are valuable commodities in your organization that you want to cherish and protect. That is why we do everything possible to tailor the certification process to your requirements. Of course, this is never at the expense of our accuracy, objectivity, or independence. You can come to us for nearly every quality mark or certificate. Whenever possible, we combine the conformity of your products or processes with multiple directives and with the criteria of various national standards in one certification process. An OHSAS 18001 certificate, for instance, can be perfectly combined with ISO 9001 (quality), ISO 14001 (environmental protection), ISO 20000-1 (IT service management) or ISO 27001 (information security). You can also come to KEMA Quality for the certification of your products. This saves you from making a long trip round multiple certification institutes or certifying bodies. KEMA Quality has a network of offices and agencies throughout the world. You can nearly always do business in your own language, close to home. Our procedure is the same all over the world. And at the same time our auditors are aware of the local do's and don'ts. KEMA Quality helps you demonstrate your health and safe manner of working.
